FEAST OF THE ASCENSION

MAY 28, 2017

Reflection

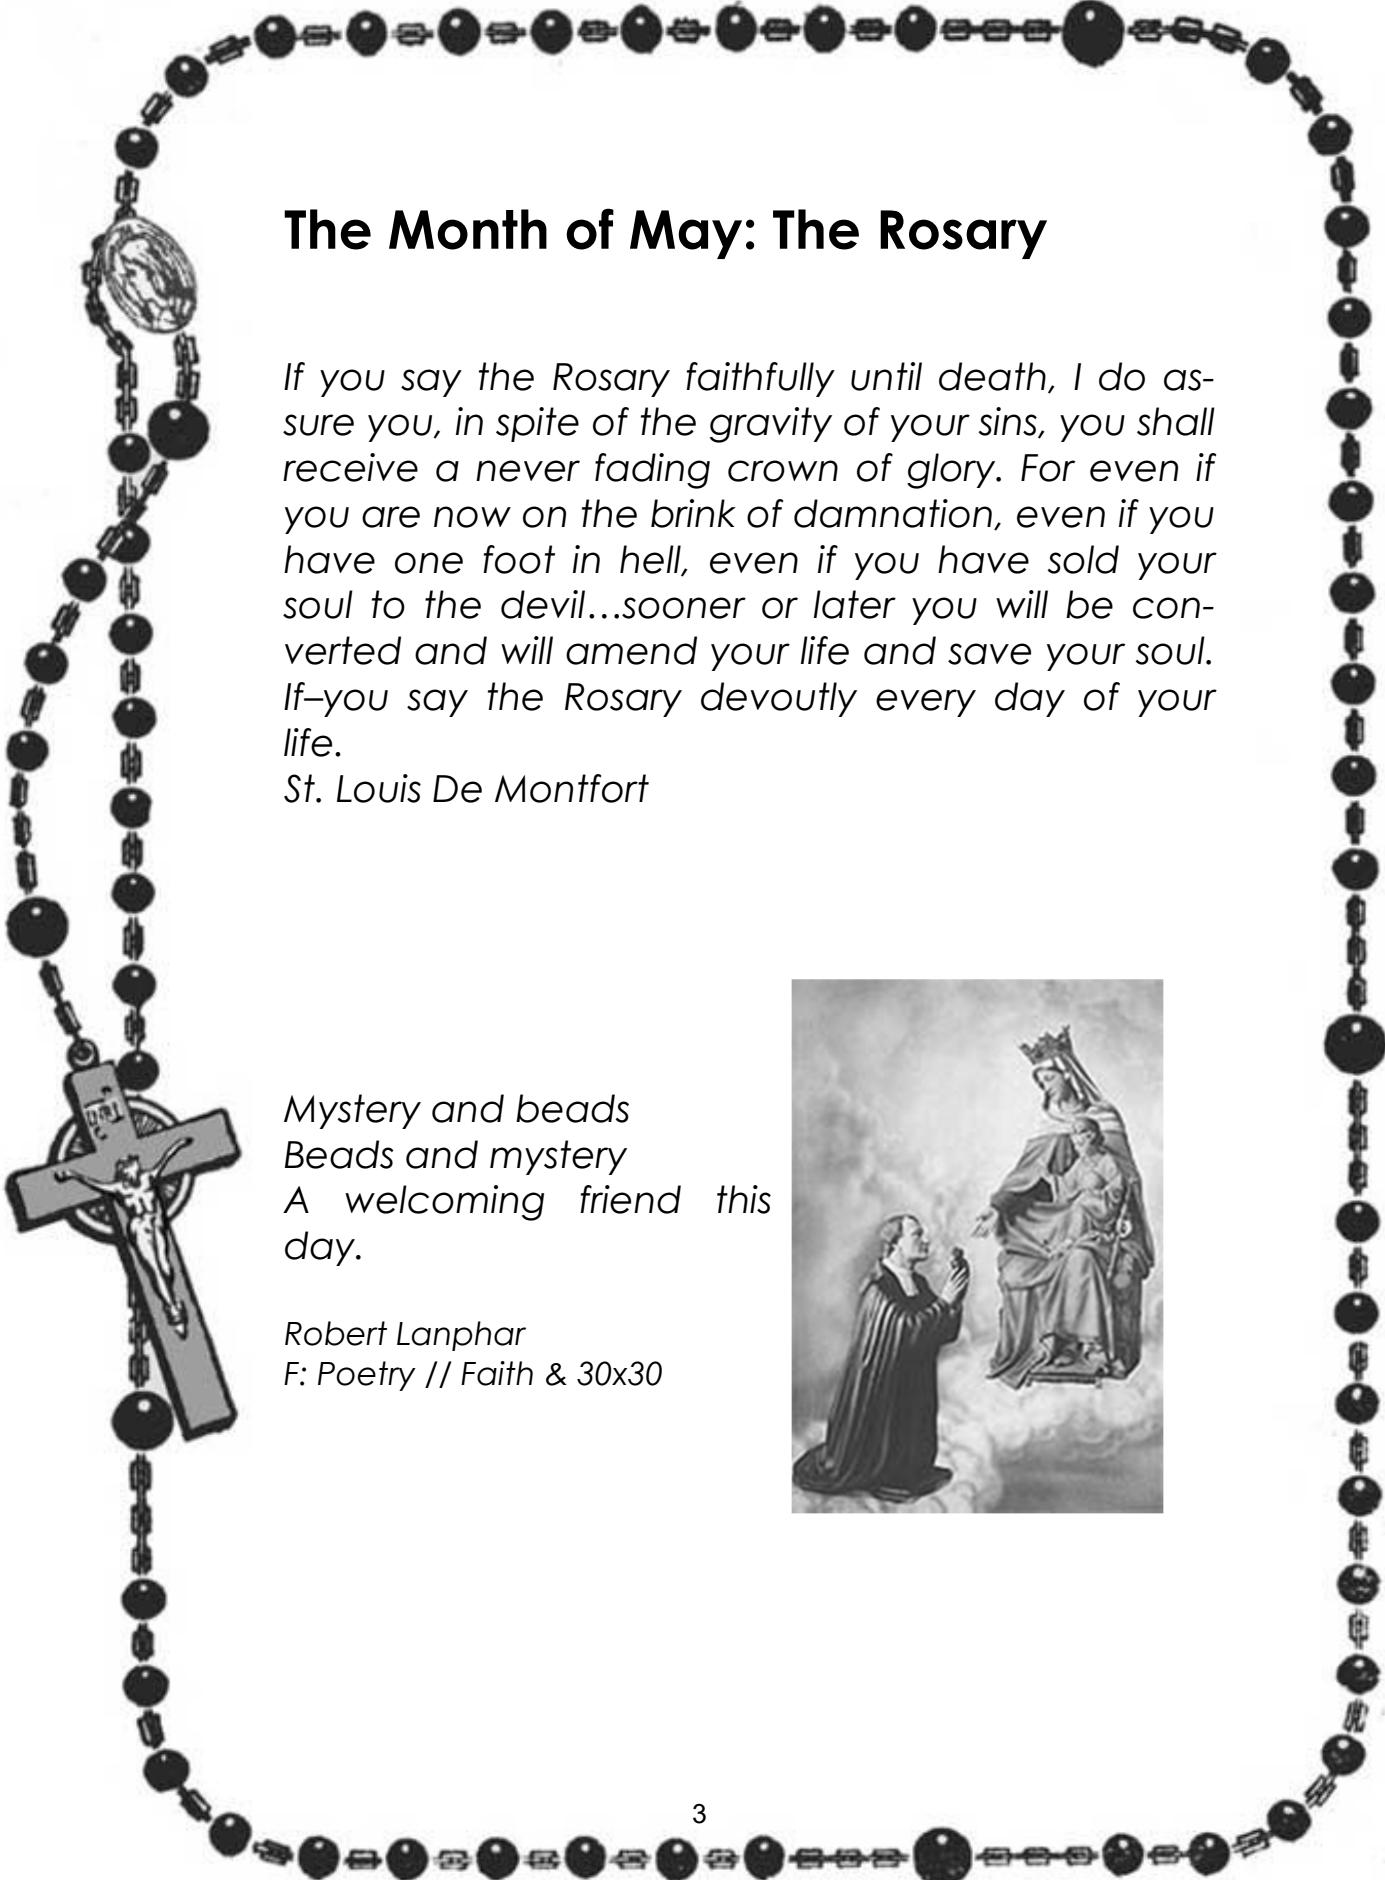

Today's image presented in the word gives us the sense that somehow Jesus is gone. He is taken away (Acts 1 & Matthew 28). This notion seems to be affirmed in the portrait of the disciples who are standing on the hill side. Notice they are not simply milling around, but actually saying good-bye to Jesus, but this picture can be misleading. The Feast of the Ascension (in which our focus is more on the specifics of whether Jesus went up or did he disappear or was there another phenomena), not realizing of course that all of our speculations do not make a real difference or change how the "ascension may have taken place." What really matters in regard to the Ascension is our willingness to discover what the resurrection has meant for us: Have we been transformed by the experience of Easter? When Jesus says ... go and make disciples of others (Matthew 28) he is talking about how we manifest God's presence in our world. Easter is not simply an experience outside of ourselves. Easter is about an ontological change in who we are, who we claim to be, and how others perceive what we are all about. It is making the resurrection real and tangible in our world. It is about making a real difference. It means being recognized by others that we share in the very being of God, so much so that Easter reaches into the soul of our lives and transforms the hearts of others so that the Easter experience becomes theirs.

The question and challenge before us on this Feast of the Ascension might very well have to do with the posture we take in our lives. If resurrection is about embracing Easter and the Ascension, then we must resist the temptation by presenting ourselves in such a way that there is no difference in the way we live our lives, the values we hold, and the way we perceive others. So, how do we start (or continue) and where should we seek the Risen-Ascended Christ? Exactly where the Gospel directs us: Right here, right now! Resurrection is not something from the past (a nice story of what happened a long time ago at an empty tomb) nor is it simply something about the future, resurrection is what is happening now! Perhaps, this was not the experience of the disciples and maybe not ours as well because like Jesus' followers we often find ourselves standing on the hill staring upward (Acts 1) instead of directing our attention "outward."

Resurrection, as strange as it may seem, poses the question "what are we looking for?" Maybe our difficulty is that we are simply not looking hard enough because we have the notion that Jesus "is gone or has left us" or maybe we do not care to notice or we are looking in all the wrong places. In order to be transformed by the resurrection and transfigured by the ascension we need to take notice. Today's word advises us to remain open to see the Risen Christ's Spirit, who will in turn enable us to see God more clearly; however there is a caution here: Saint Paul's tells us that nothing is certain (Ephesians 1). It is a matter of remaining open in order to perceive the unbelievable possibility of glimpsing into what may very well be the Risen-Ascended Christ (Ephesians 1) in the unfolding of the experiences of our lives, and realize this is when the resurrection becomes the Ascension: The moment we are able to stop "looking upward" but outward (Acts 1) and recognize and see our world not the way others see things, but embrace our lived experience and world with the transformative life of the Risen Christ, so that the power of Easter will truly make a difference in our world. Perhaps this is precisely when we ascend into the very heart of God with Jesus!

The Month of May: The Rosary

If you say the Rosary faithfully until death, I do assure you, in spite of the gravity of your sins, you shall receive a never fading crown of glory. For even if you are now on the brink of damnation, even if you have one foot in hell, even if you have sold your soul to the devil...sooner or later you will be converted and will amend your life and save your soul. If—you say the Rosary devoutly every day of your life.

Holy Hour of Reparation to the Sacred Heart of Jesus
Thursday, June 1 at 7:00 PM
in the Adoration Chapel

In 1675, Our Lord appeared to St. Margaret Mary in France beseeching her to spread devotion to His Sacred Heart. He promised her, Those who propagate this devotion shall have their names written in My Heart, and it shall never be effaced. Spend an hour in prayer to appease divine justice, to implore mercy for sinners, to honor me, to console me for my bitter suffering. In response to Jesus' request we now pray in the intimacy of the Adoration Chapel.

Please join us. We know you will leave the Chapel with great solace and happiness in knowing that Jesus has rested in your heart and that we prayed as he requested. For info, contact: Joan Hosek at 714/983-7560 or joanhosek@att.net
