PARISH UPDATE

Dear friends,

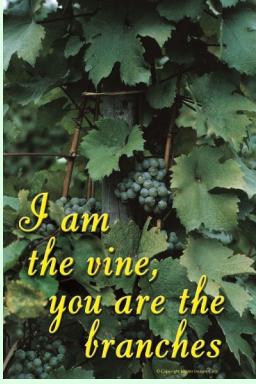

It is with my privilege and great joy to announce Fr. Randy Guillen will be the new Administrator for St. Angela Merici Parish. Fr. Randy comes to us from St. Joachim Church in Costa Mesa where he served as a Parochial Vicar. I'm truly excited about his coming here and believe wholeheartedly he'll be perfect for St. Angela's. Now of course, after being around me for 4 years you know no priest is perfect, we all have strengths and areas for growth, but I know he'll bring strengths I didn't possess and will take our Parish to the next level. I look forward to sharing more with you in the next couple months. Please stay tuned and welcome Fr. Randy when he arrives in July and my sabbatical begins. Fortunately for St. Angela's, Fr. Francis will remain here for at least another year to help show Fr. Randy the ropes and make his transition as smooth as possible. Until then please start praying for Fr. Randy as he makes the transition into his new parish home. As always, your prayers for me are much appreciated as well.

It's great to see the number of Covid vaccinations going up and the number of Covid cases coming down. Given the low infection rate and the increased number of people being vaccinated, we are slowly and cautiously opening up for more activities. Our church office is now open every day from 8 to 11 am and every evening from 4 to 7 pm except Sundays. Schools and church services are allowed to reduce the 6-foot safe distance between people from different households to 3 feet and there is no longer a capacity limit for people inside the church provided we wear masks and keep the minimum 3-feet safe distance rule.

I've been taking informal poles about reducing the distance from 6 to 3-feet and there's about 15% of our parishioners who, for health reasons, want to maintain the 6-foot safe distancing rule. For this reason, and because our attendance allows us to maintain the 6' rule, I believe it's best to postpone reducing the safe distance from 6 to 3'. It's great to know we have the option to sit closer to each other and still be safe. Eventually we will be removing the pew barriers and allowing people to sit in all pews. Another exciting announcement is all of our ministry related groups are now allowed to meet inside, provided food is not served. This includes the Knights of Columbus, PALS, Social Justice, charismatic prayer groups, Fire, Ignite, Rosary, etc.

Our annual Pastoral Services Appeal, PSA, is well under way. PSA provides an opportunity for us to join together as one Diocese of Orange church family in our support of many diverse ministries like; Catholic Education, Clergy Formation and Support, Outreach ministries to the poor and needy, and Parish and Diocesan Development. These ministries and services benefit our own parish as well as parishes and people all over Orange County. With funds from PSA, we will be able to address some significant needs here at St. Angela Merici Church. This year we have chosen to focus on refurbishing/ replacing our church pews. With all the major improvements to our lighting system we can now see how our pews and kneelers have fallen into disrepair. In the months ahead we will hear how we can respond to this call to carry on the work of Christ in our community. Please prayerfully consider how you will be able to support this important appeal.

Resurrection Blessings to all, Fr. Dave

SUNDAY REFLECTION

Whether you believe it or not, we have heard a lot in recent years from politicians and news that we are a country divided. Hence, we have also heard a lot of unity speech like we are not red state or blue state, but we are united states etc. Jesus in this fifth Sunday of Easter also talks about unity of the branches to the vine. To understand what he meant by this, we must know a bit more about the background of his discourse.

Jesus spoke these words to his apostles after washing the disciples' feet and probably before or on the way to the garden of Gethsemane, toward the end of the last supper. It was a night when all the disciples would abandon him, when their leader, Peter, would deny him publicly, and another of their company would betray him. Precisely, this was the night he chose to talk about unity and togetherness. Jesus had been telling the disciples all along he was "going away." They knew what he meant – he was going to his death as he mentioned earlier; the good shepherd would lay down his life for his sheep. When the disciples heard Jesus say these words, of course they were overcome with sorrow. This is more than just a unity speech, this is a goodbye speech between the master and his disciples, best friends bidding goodbye to one another.

The hour of parting is a painful hour. I remember as a kid I used to go to the airport to bid relatives goodbye in Hong Kong; the airport was like a mortuary. Constantly, I would hear sopping and crying because mothers would not let go of their children who were going abroad to make a life on their own. In old times, traveling was not easy, terribly expensive, and the family had no idea when they would be seeing each other again. Hence, a lot of sadness in the airport. However, the hour of parting could also be a blessed hour because it is an hour of heightened sensibility. In normal times we are reluctant to express our deepest feelings because people might think we are too sensitive especially for males. However, at the hour of parting, our emotion can hold no longer, and it gushes out to the one who is parting. As the poet Kahlil Gibran said: "Love knows not its own depth until the hour of separation."

The apostles learned a lot about themselves and Jesus that night, of confusion and fear, in the garden of Gethsemane. It was a night which their weakness and cowardice were cruelly exposed when confronted with the demands of unity and solidarity. They also learned Jesus loved them in and through their weakness. If they should ever get separated from him, it would not be because he had cut them off. Jesus had expressed his longing to unite with his disciples through the metaphor of the vine and the branches. But besides the emotion, Jesus also sent forth his disciples to bear fruit through their connection with him.

Jesus wrote no books, left no monuments behind. He did something greater – he built a community of disciples – the Church. We are the fruit of the unity of the vine and the branches. To continue building the community of the disciples, we must become the branches also. However, we must not forget to cling to the vine and not act on our own. This writing was inspired by father Flor McCarthy, S.B.D.

CHURCH CROSS

One of the many projects we've been working on this past year has been the construction of a brand-new church cross. When the bell tower was removed for seismic reasons the church cross was also removed. This occurred many years ago and left our church without a cross. The church cross provides a visible sign of our faith and an expression of our faith to the community at large. I'm very pleased to announce a very generous donor has paid for the construction of the 15' high cross mounted on a 15' high pedestal and the associated concrete work. A big THANKS goes to Teresita Pabalan, Jim Aube, Bill Morgan, Franz Liem, Juan Santana, Ferdinand Mata, and all involved in making this project possible.

THE SOLEMNITY OF ST. JOSEPH, TRULY A SAINT FOR OUR TIMES

The Gospel of Matthew gives emphasis to St. Joseph, for it is through him that the legal, filial line passed from King David to Jesus. The following are virtues we all stand to learn from St. Joseph.

St. Joseph's Silence: If we look at Sacred Scripture, there is not one word uttered by St. Joseph that was recorded. God speaks to us in the depths of our hearts, for he knows our deepest desires. In our world full of distraction especially through social media and those plug into our ears, we pause for a while and look at the beauty of nature and see His masterpiece.

St. Joseph's Trust: An angel appeared to Joseph in a dream, explaining that the child in Mary's womb had been conceived by the overshadowing of the Holy Spirit, and so when he awoke, he "did as the angel of the Lord had commanded him" (Mt 1:24). Trusting in the Lord meant putting everything in His hands. We must choose not to worry ourselves with all the superficial things of daily life, but rather rely on His Holy Will, for He who is the source of everything will not let us go astray.

St. Joseph's Responsibility: "He rose, took the child and his mother, and went to the land of Israel" (Mt 2:21). Being the earthly father of Jesus, he took the responsibility of raising the child of God with the help of Mary. It is in his arms that the child Jesus felt love and care. Responsibility means carrying out the task at hand wholeheartedly and with dedication. This piece was contributed to Catholic-Link by guest-author, Andrew Chanco.

A Family Man: Surely, St. Joseph would not have needed to discipline the child Jesus. Still, we were moved by this StoryCorps vignette about a strong, silent, hard-working father, and the kind of influence he wields, even without words (like St. Joseph). Listen as a son reflects back on his upbringing and his father, who – with a mere stern glance – and the gravitas that only a father who has earned his God-given authority, can manifest.

St. Joseph is a saint for all times, but truly and especially a saint for our times. In an age where the crisis in families, absentee fathers, proliferation of pornography, and any other number of distortions pertaining to masculinity seem to wound every family and community, surely Saint Joseph is a patron for us in many ways. Let us turn to him with our aches and intentions as a special intercessor.

CONSECRATION TO CHRIST THROUGH ST. JOSEPH

"Joseph teaches us that faith in God includes believing that he can work even through our fears, our frailties and our weaknesses...amid the tempests of life, we must never be afraid to let the Lord steer our course." - Pope Francis

Beginning on May 1, the Feast of St. Joseph the Worker, the Diocese of Orange will facilitate preparation for anyone who would like to consecrate himself or herself to Jesus through St. Joseph. Members of our community will pray and meditate with those who would like to "make a formal act of filial entrustment to our spiritual father" and ultimately, lead themselves to God. Every night for 33 days from 8:30 pm to 9:00 pm, a host will facilitate prayer and meditation via YouTube Live www.youtube.com/DioceseOrange/. Those interested will need the book, Consecration to St. Joseph: The Wonders of Our Spiritual Father by Fr. Donald Calloway, MIC, available through the Christ Cathedral Gift Shop www.catholicfreeshipping.com. Versions of the book are also available in Spanish and an e-book on www.shopmercy.com.
